Housing shelter bid for rough sleepers

EXCLUSIVE BY PHILIP MCELENEY
philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

A MOVE to create an 'interim housing shelter' could help get rough sleepers off the streets.

After the deaths of Tony Porter and Patrick Allen, who were both known to the homeless community, the Conservative Party is looking to build emergency temporary accommodation for about 30 people, if it comes into power in May.

The council has already agreed plans for a 'one stop shop', where the homeless would be able to access several services in one place. But the Conservatives feel it is wrong that people are still sleeping rough.

Cllr Alice Bramall, Conservative councillor for Danesborough and Walton, told OneMK: "We don't think it's acceptable that people are sleeping on the streets. We want to see this reduce and to also stop people living in bed and breakfasts. "Socially it's damaging and it's also very expensive and not the best use of taxpayers' money."

The idea for the interim housing shelter would see an element of support on site for people staying there.

And the Conservatives feel the plan is a realistic one given the land the council currently owns.

"The council has existing properties that could be converted easily and in a cost-effective way," Cllr Bramall explained.

"There's no reason why this problem couldn't have been solved earlier, it makes no sense to me."

But not everyone agrees it is the right course of action.

Labour leader, Cllr Pete Marland said: "There are a lot of schemes looking at ultimately giving people a place to stay, which don't fundamentally tackle the cause. I'm not sure

Protest: Campaigners from Milton Keynes People's Assembly negotiating with representatives of the Conservative party putting a lot of homeless people in one place is the greatest idea but of course we need to work cross-party."

And the Milton Keynes YMCA thinks it is already offering the same service for the homeless.

Director of operations Simon Green said: "That is exactly the service that MK YMCA has been providing for years and which MK Council has just stopped funding – an emergency access hostel for 23 people per night."

"Maybe the council's left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing!" On Monday protestors were outside a meeting at MK YMCA, which parliamentary under secretary of state for communities and local government, MP Marcus Jones, attended.

They were calling for more to be done to help the homeless.

And the Liberal Democrats feel homelessness should be prioritised. Party leader Cllr Douglas McCall said: "We would tackle it three ways – by making sure affordable housing targets are strictly enforced, by building a new hostel and by working with the voluntary sector to maximise the input they have, as they do an excellent job helping the homeless."

Maria Porter, the sister of Tony Porter, who was tragically found dead outside The Church of Christ the Cornerstone, added: "Providing a safe place for the homeless community is a great step, but I believe more needs to be done to join up support services that may assist them in moving off the streets for good."

Prisoners avoid jail term after Woodhill chase

TWO prisoners who forced a fellow inmate they thought was 'a snitch' to jump from a prison landing to escape them have avoided being sent back to jail.

Romahn Richards shattered his ankle after jumping from a second floor landing to get away from Lance Hasdell and Lewis Kelly.

The pair had gone into his Woodhill prison cell on January 13, 2015 because they were worried he was going to report them to officials.

Hasdell and Kelly were initially charged with causing grievous bodily harm, an offence they denied.

When their case came to court for trial an alternative charge of affray was offered, to which they both pleaded guilty.

Last Wednesday the pair avoided being sent back to prison when an Aylesbury Crown Court judge said he wanted to give them a second chance after hearing they had both turned their lives around since being freed from jail.

Kelly, of Willow Road, West Bridgford, Nottinghamshire, and Hasdell, of Wesleyan Road, Peterborough, both had their 16-month prison sentences suspended for 18 months.

They will also have to do 150 hours of unpaid work and were ordered to pay £150 in costs.

Hasdell will undergo supervision for 18 months.

Construction: Builders have already started work on the schools in Kents Hill

WHAT YOU HAVE SAID ABOUT THE WALK TO SCHOOL

Shaun George: "I have to admit, even as an adult, the redways are not a pleasant place to walk along."

Layla Jones: "I would be horrified if my children, whom are all grown up, now had to use these underpasses. The one near me is always full of a gang."

Paul Griffiths: "If walking takes too long and bus fares are too expensive – what about a bike? Good exercise and would get there a lot quicker."

Bev Chesters: "My kids have always walked to school, no problems with that. But I would be concerned looking at the route, underpasses and open fields – in the winter if kids have after school clubs or homework clubs these areas are often badly lit."

Lisa Stiles: "If my three-year-old can walk half an hour to school, I don't see why a teenager can't walk an hour. The only issue is safety as the majority will not be with an adult."

New schools a 'barmy' idea

BY MICA WHYTE
editor@onemk.co.uk

SCHOOLCHILDREN face long walks along grubby redways twice a day after plans for new schools were approved.

Planning permission has been granted for two schools in Kents Hill, despite the majority of the students set to travel from Beanhill, Netherfield, Ashland, Simpson and Tinkers Bridge.

Milton Keynes Council has released details of how long it will take to walk to the schools and this week OneMK tried it out for ourselves. It took an hour from Netherfield and went under several rundown redways, which may encourage children to cross busy grid roads instead.

Speaking at the meeting when the council's development control committee approved the plans, Cllr John Bint described it as 'inherently barmy', while Cllr Andrew Buckley raised concerns over how long it would take children to get to school.

OneMK asked the council to look at the redways as part of our Walk Safe campaign, which aims to make them more user-friendly.

A council spokesman said: "We have a graffiti removal team who respond to reports across the borough. If residents report it the crew will programme it in for removal."

"We've also asked our contractor to dispatch a crew to check for litter, broken glass, etc and clear any up, as well as checking for graffiti."

HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE?

- Beanhill – 48 mins
- Ashland – 46 mins
- Netherfield – 37 mins
- Tinkers Bridge – 30 mins
- Simpson – 30 mins
- Woughton Park – 28 mins

Family tragedy on Boxing Day

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A GRANDDAD ran over his two-year-old grandson in a tragic Boxing Day accident, an inquest heard yesterday.

The family have been left heartbroken after Jack Smith died from serious head trauma at Milton Keynes University Hospital on December 26, 2015.

Grandfather Charlie Gaskin, from Calverton Caravan Site, was going to pop to the shops in his Ford Transit when the tragedy happened.

As he manoeuvred out of his parking space Jack, who was toddling behind, fell under the rear wheel.

Senior coroner Tom Osborne said: "I am a granddad myself to a two-year-old grandson and cannot even begin to understand what trauma this has caused to the family.

"Every Boxing Day here after will never be the same."

Speaking at the inquest, attended by the tearful family, PC Adrian White from Thames Valley Police's collision investigation unit believed the accident was 'unavoidable'.

"Children had been playing out all day on the site and a children's play area," he said. "Many of the children wanted to go with him but he could only take two. The collision was unavoidable even if [Mr Gaskin] had seen [Jack] as his concentration was on manoeuvring the vehicle and the children elsewhere.

"There was no evidence Mr Gaskin had tried to clean the vehicle. There were scratches underneath but these looked like they were from children using it like a chalk board."

Coroner Osborne concluded that Jack died as a result of an accident.

Health must come first

I HAVE travelled to Krakow in Poland.

Initially it was going to be a day trip for a concert and then it turned out to last almost a week.

During the stay in this most beautiful of cities something struck me about the people of Poland that I met and the thousands I saw.

Not one, yes, not one was slightly overweight let alone obese.

Poland is not known for its wealth and yet Poles obviously eat sensibly and look after themselves.

Coming back to the UK via Stansted Airport how things changed.

There were fat (sorry obese) people everywhere.

Why should Poles consider it important to eat well and look good and thousands of Britons do not?

Back in MK, I noticed that the Poles that I know had not suddenly become fat (sorry, obese) upon their arrival in the UK.

On reflection, the same can be said of slim natives of the Czech Republic whom I met in Prague a few years ago.

Three years ago, I looked a mess. Like a fat lump of blanchmange.

That though was because I was ill with a brain tumour that affected my body weight and shape.

Now, with my excuse of being ill out of the way, I have returned to a much more confident and regular body shape.

I'm still ugly but there is considerably less weight on my shoulders.

Few fat (sorry, obese) people can use an illness as an excuse for their condition.

When I told a GP friend of mine 12,000 miles away in Brisbane, Australia, about my health and my weight he instantly told me that those were the reasons I had Type 2 Diabetes.

Being a good weight and being careful about how much one eats and what one eats should be the aim of us all.

If only more Britons would follow the example of Poles; obesity in Milton Keynes would not be at deadly high levels. We would all look much better and be more confident and happy about our health.

Rise is just taxing

WE HAVE just had a copy of the Campbell Park Parish Council newsletter delivered at our address.

And we note that the parish council has again raised its precept for this year by a substantial amount over the guidelines given to major councils by an increase of seven per cent.

This goes against the public consultation of residents of the parish where the outcome was 81 per cent did not want to increase the precept above five per cent with only 18 per cent in favour of a rise above five per cent.

What is the point having a public consultation of the parish if the council disregards the outcome?

Where there is a shortfall from Milton Keynes Council's grant to parish councils another parish council has used the money from its reserves to meet the shortfall.

Residents should be asking their parish councillors in their wards of Campbell Park why the need for such a large increase again and did their councillors vote for such an increase and why and how much of this will be spent or will this end up in the parish council's reserves for yet another year.

Your messages about Woburn Sands housing estate on our Facebook page

Matt Barratt: No housing should be given planning without space for at least two cars on the driveway of each house. I'm sick of seeing new estates cluttered up by cars because the developer wanted to make more money by using the meterage for the drive and garage to make the actual living space bigger.

Louise Clark: Stop building houses and provide another hospital! MK hospital is soooo over run the staff are rushed of their feet! When will someone use their brain?

Lisa Hague: We need another hospital. It's all well building doctors, it's a shame they will be empty as the NHS does not have the funds to supply the doctors! This maybe why our hospital can't cope!

Roxanne Clarke: We need more council houses. Not more apparently 'affordable' houses!

Cheryl Hodges: No more houses until hospital, schools and doctors are provided for the current population!

Emma Young: I was so shocked to read MK has under 12,000 council houses! No wonder they have a housing crisis.

His column written exclusively for OneMK

OCCASIONALLY it's nice to stray from the corporate shops of the centre:mk and experience a few artisan handcrafts and treats.

This is exactly what I did on Sunday at the Galleon Wharf in Old Wolverton where local craftspeople were selling their wares. Everything from lights made from old copper pipes, products made from wool and felt and loads of yummy food.

One of the standout stalls was The Concrete Cow Brewery. Since 2007, this Bradwell Abbey-based 'micro-brewery' has been selling Milton Keynes-inspired beer with names like Cock And Ball, Fenny Popper and Sacred Cow.

The dream of local brewer and proprietor Dan Bonner, who was selling his wares personally, it's clear to see he has a passion for beer.

Another memorable stall was Kandola's Kitchen that featured some of the tastiest handmade chocolates I've ever eaten, homemade by Lesley Kandola.

This lovely secret venue also boasts G'Dads curiosity shop, a coffee shop and, of course, the Galleon pub. Another fayre is planned at the same canal-side venue in June.

Hollywood roles for rare breeds

Great tail: Josie Hughes with Dief and Sion Hughes with Woody, the two dogs appearing in the film

BY PHILIP MCELENEY

philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

TWO dogs have made their Hollywood debut in blockbuster film The Huntsman: Winter's War, starring alongside the likes of Chris Hemsworth and Emily Blunt. Rare Tamaskans Dief and Woody – two of only 400 of the breed in the world – are the only dogs to feature in the film.

Josie Hughes, 43, who works at The Open University in Milton Keynes, and husband Sion, 48, were approached by the film company after they found a website for the two dogs online.

Mrs Hughes explained: "We signed up to a website called Stunt Dog which advertises dogs for films and TV and didn't hear anything for a month or so.

"But then we were approached after they found our dogs online and they were then approved by the producers and director."

The dogs feature in several scenes and seeing their pets on screen was a bit unusual for the owners.

Mrs Hughes said: "To watch our gentle dogs attacking a corpse in the film was certainly a bit weird!

"But it was such a good experience that we would happily work with them again."

Filming of the scenes – which were in Pinewood – took 13 days and the couple were paid £150 a day for the work.

Mrs Hughes said: "My husband got to meet Chris Hemsworth and Rob Brydon, but they weren't there on days when I was. But everyone on the set was so friendly, they were genuinely interested in the dogs and would come over and meet them."

The dogs haven't got any upcoming bookings but given the experience the Hughes family had they are keen to make a return to Hollywood soon.

Trike rider flown to hospital after crash

A RIDER suffered serious injuries in a trike accident in Fullers Slade on Friday.

The 42-year-old man suffered a serious leg injury, which was not life-threatening, and was flown by air ambulance to The John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford.

The road remained closed for nearly two hours as the rider received medical treatment.

Firefighters wore lifejackets and used wading poles to rescue the dog walker after she became stuck.

Arriva bus involved in a vehicle pile up

AN ARRIVA bus was involved in a collision on Monday that left one person injured.

Police and ambulance services were called to the scene at 10.47am after reports of a road traffic collision involving three vehicles on Loughton Roundabout.

Paramedics treated one patient for minor injuries and the Arriva bus driver was praised by witnesses at the scene.

A spokesman from the bus company said: "We are currently working with the emergency services and relevant authorities to investigate the circumstances surrounding this incident, but are aware that the swift actions of a member of our team on-board may have prevented the situation escalating further.

"We are thankful for the professionalism and mindfulness she displayed throughout."

Theatre District hotel to be built

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

WORK on a 130-room hotel in the Theatre District could start as soon as this summer after a contractor was selected.

Plans for the hotel were approved by MK Council in March 2015 but work has not yet started.

And as OneMK previously reported, The David Garrick in Milton Keynes closed on Sunday, with the manager of the JD Wetherspoon-owned pub citing lack of investment in the Theatre District as one of the reasons. Now UGS (MK) Ltd – which owns the Theatre District – has responded and in its statement it gives details of the latest developments on the plans for the Premier Inn in the area.

A spokesman for UGS (MK) Ltd told OneMK: "UGS (MK) Ltd, owners of the Theatre District, are disappointed to hear of the closure of The David Garrick."

"Obviously JD Wetherspoon have their own financial and strategic reasons for this decision. The Theatre District is continuing with plans to build the 130-room Premier Inn hotel and a contractor has been selected, with the view to start work on site in summer 2016."

The Theatre District's owner also say there is set to be a major cleaning project put in place, although a timeline for the work has not yet been published.

Deaths in city above average

THE number of people dying each year in Milton Keynes has increased sharply since 2014 with the city's rate above the UK average, according to the latest figures from the Office for National Statistics (ONS).

The number of men dying in MK was well ahead of the rest of the country for all ages and nearly twice the national average for those aged 75 and over. But the overall percentage increase in the number of women dying in the city was lower than the UK's average.

ONS also found an increase in deaths from Alzheimer's.

Hole in house after van crash

THIS was the damage caused to a home when a van collided with it on Sunday.

The accident happened on Hartwell Road at about 12.30am and crews from Newport Pagnell and Broughton attended.

Dad's nightmare inspires training

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A FATHER who had to give CPR to his 29-day-old son now offers free first aid training to other parents.

David Bottle, 44, was faced with every parent's nightmare when his baby Henry had a rare heart attack.

"Lots of things run through your mind and looking back I knew I had done all I could have. It still turned my life upside down," said Mr Bottle.

Sadly Henry did not survive but Mr Bottle added: "Instead of waiting 10 minutes in panic waiting for an ambulance, I was so grateful I knew what to do. But I was surprised to find how many others said they wouldn't know."

This realisation inspired the family business Little Wings First Aid Training, founded in 2011.

The company, run by the Bottle family with a team of trainers, now successfully teaches large companies such as Nando's, deli France and Child Base, a nursery chain based in Milton Keynes.

Mr Bottle added: "What makes our company more unique is that for every one person we train, we train another for free. We reinvest a good part of our profit for free courses for parents and schools. Anyone interested in free first aid training can email info@little-wing.co.uk"

Action: Artist Richard DeDomenici will be recreating scenes from Superman IV: The Quest For Peace, which were originally shot in the city in 1986

A super project

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

SCENES from a famous film will be recreated in the city as part of the International Festival (IF) 2016.

Several of the shots from the iconic blockbuster Superman IV: The Quest For Peace will be brought back to life by internationally-renowned artist Richard DeDomenici. These include the flying scenes in front of Milton Keynes Central train station. The film, which starred Christopher Reeves and Gene Hackman, was filmed in Milton Keynes (which doubles as New York) in 1986. Mr DeDomenici has pioneered a series of creative and witty recreations of sections of popular films around the world and now brings his Redux Project to the city to take on Superman IV. Using local people, Richard will reshoot key scenes from the original film during IF to mark the 30th anniversary of the movie being made. Filming dates, locations and how to be an extra are still to be announced. Organisers of IF, which is being supported by OneMK, are also calling on residents to be part of the incredible moving sculpture, Dominoes. The piece, created by Station House Opera and seen all over the world, has been specially adapted to run across the city, unfolding over the course of just one day on Saturday, July 16. Dominoes will cover approximately two kilometres with some exciting tricks along the way. To find out more about IF, taking place from July 15-24, and how to volunteer visit our website – onemk.co.uk

'Unbreakable': Betty O'Connell, left, and Irene Dixon from the Women's Royal Naval Service (Wrens) that worked on Colossus with the Lorenz SZ42, the extremely rare cipher that is now on display at The National Museum of Computing

Hitler cipher display

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

AN EXTREMELY rare Lorenz SZ42 – described as Hitler's 'unbreakable' cipher machine – is now on display at The National Museum of Computing (TNMOC).

It is estimated about 200 Lorenz machines were in existence during the Second World War, but only four are known to have survived.

The particular machine now at TNMOC, based at Bletchley Park, was used at the German headquarters in Norway at Lillehammer, north of Oslo, and is believed to have received the final surrender instruction message at 24:00 on May 8 1945, marking the end of the war.

Andy Clark, chairman of TNMOC, said: "We are enormously grateful to the Norwegian Armed Forces Museum for its generous loan. It completes a truly unique set at TNMOC and helps bring further life to the story that we have always wanted to tell as clearly and dynamically as possible."

"The technologies at the core of the Lorenz story are at the very heart of our modern world, so the narrative is as relevant today as it was then."

The breaking of the top-secret Lorenz messages of German High Command is credited with shortening the war and saving countless lives.

The creation of the Colossus machine in 1944 by Tommy Flowers reduced the decrypt time from hours to weeks to undermined the Nazis.

A reunion of Colossus veterans and relatives of those connected with the breaking of Lorenz is to be held at TNMOC later this spring.

Loving memory: Jamie Tipler was just 11 when he died in January 2015 as the result of a brain tumour and mum Julie is determined for the work of Jamie's Rhythm of Life to reach every child cancer ward in the country. Inset: Jamie with his mum, dad Kevin and sister Sophie

Jamie's legacy

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

A TERMINALLY-ILL mother is hosting a charity ball in an attempt to fulfil her late son's wish.

Jamie Tipler, a former pupil at Milton Keynes Preparatory School, died in January last year at the age of 11 as the result of a brain tumour.

Jamie's Rhythm of Life was set up in his memory with the goal of gifting birthday presents to child cancer sufferers and their siblings.

Now mum Julie, who herself has been diagnosed with incurable breast cancer, is determined to see Jamie's legacy extend to all child cancer wards in the country.

She said: "Jamie was just a typical boy – cheeky, adorable and full of life.

"During Jamie's treatment his best friend sent him a balloon in a box which meant the world to him.

"Jamie wanted to do the same for others on the ward and all of our work now is inspired by him."

The birthday presents for sufferers and their siblings always include a balloon in a box and Lego.

The foundation has already donated just under 100 presents to children at The John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford.

A Bollywood Ball is being held at DoubleTree by Hilton at stadiummk on June 11 from 6pm to raise awareness and funds for the foundation's work.

Live Hindi music will be performed on the night and there will also be a charity auction and hot buffet.

For more information on the ball and Jamie's Rhythm of Life, email jamies.rhythmoflife@gmail.com or call Julie on 07969 536786.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which? Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes &

Leighton Buzzard areas and manager Stephen Moon agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Stephen a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Fears over poisoned biscuits in play park

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A DOG owner is warning others and parents after poisonous dog biscuits are believed to have been planted in dog walking spots and nearby play parks.

David Gaudie's dog Maddy, from Crownhill, became seriously ill last month after eating some biscuits near his house in Mercury Grove.

After the four-year-old collie and husky cross stopped eating or drinking, Mr Gaudie took her to the vet where fortunately antibiotics helped her to recover.

The 56-year-old said: "When the vet asked if she had eaten anything strange I remembered the biscuits. She was on antibiotics for four days.

"But since then I have seen piles of biscuits in the same places and I kick them into the bushes.

"Every day there are new piles when I go walking at about 6am.

"I have also noticed them on Crownhill football field on the corners of the pitches and near the play park.

"I alerted police because of the children.

"This person obviously doesn't care for dogs, kids, or other animals.

"The biscuits just look like normal Pedigree chum dried biscuits and they are put out in big piles the size of a dinner plate."

Mr Gaudie added that one of his neighbour's dogs was also taken ill after it is believed they also ate the biscuits and the pet had to be carried home.

Police confirmed they are investigating the incident and are looking for any suspect descriptions from residents.

Anyone with information is urged to call 101.

Support for families grieving after death

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

FAMILIES or children grieving following a death are being invited to an open day to find out more about a support service in the city.

Child Bereavement UK (CBUK), which opened an office in North Seventh Street in November, offers one-to-one advice either in person or over the phone, as well as running support groups.

Yaz Zaman, team lead for the Milton Keynes office, hopes the open day will raise awareness of the support services on offer for anybody grieving in the city.

She added: "We are all different and we say there are as many different ways of grieving as there are people – everybody grieves in different ways."

"Sometimes there is a fear of talking about or managing death."

"We try to help people communicate with each other to deal with their feelings, release the stress and get some closure."

The open day is being held

Support: Yaz Zaman, team lead for the Milton Keynes office of Child Bereavement UK, wants to raise awareness of the service on April 21 from 11am-6pm at CBUK's office, underneath the YMCA flats.

People are invited to visit and have an informal talk with support practitioners and refreshments will be provided throughout the day.

James Aldridge, 18, is now a youth ambassador for CBUK in Milton Keynes after receiving support following the death of his father in 2009.

Speaking about his experience, he said: "Once you walk in, you feel a lot better because everyone is in the same place as you."

"It was a way of seeing we weren't the only ones, we weren't alone, and had other people with us."

"I have met a really good group of people who are now my friends."

For more information about CBUK's support services and the open day, visit childbereavementuk.org or call 01908 550895.

Prison term will 'be warning to burglars'

BY PHILIP MCELENEY

philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

A 44-YEAR-OLD man has been jailed for three years for two burglaries following a 'priority investigation' by police.

After pleading guilty on Monday, April 4 to two counts of burglary in Olney, Anthony Ash, from Booth Meadow Court, Northampton, was sentenced at Aylesbury Crown Court on the same day.

The sentence was handed to him following the burglaries at properties in Hipwell Court and Spinney Hill Road between February 12 and February 14 this year.

Ash forced entry into the properties while the occupants were away and stole numerous items.

Thames Valley Police had been investigating the burglaries as a matter of urgency and say the sentencing will now act as a warning to other burglars.

Investigating officer Det Con Chris Bigg said: "This significant sentencing is a reflection of the high level of community impact that Ash's crimes had on Olney.

Behind bars: Anthony Ash

"A number of residents in the town became concerned by Ash's burglaries, which Thames Valley Police investigated as a matter of priority.

"We also issued crime prevention advice to members of the community, undertook reassurance patrols and organised a community meeting at which our officers answered questions from members of the public.

"The sentence will serve as a warning to others who think they can commit these kinds of crimes and get away with them - as this case proves that they will not."

As previously reported by OneMK, a packed public meeting at the beginning of March was held to try to reassure residents following the number of burglaries in the town.

They also included five burglaries overnight from February 24-25 in which Olney Pre-school in High Street and Cafe Rosco in Fountain Court were targeted.

The number of burglaries in Olney has also been highlighted in a report by MoneySupermarket.

It looked at the number of insurance claims for theft of property from the home and named Olney in the top 20 burglary hotspots in the UK. If London was taken out of the equation, Olney would have come fifth in the results.

‘Who is this man?’

BY MICA WHYTE

editor@onemk.co.uk

A NUMBER of residents could walk past the Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) for Thames Valley in the street without recognising him.

As OneMK recently reported, Milton Keynes residents will have the right to vote for who they want to be the next PCC on Thursday, May 5.

The PCC is responsible for making sure Thames Valley Police is an efficient and effective force.

As much as it is important to register and to vote, you need to know who you are voting for and why.

One day last week, we spent our lunchtime on the streets of Milton Keynes asking residents if they recognised the current PCC for Thames Valley Police, Anthony Stansfeld.

Two out of 10 residents knew who he was whereas the other eight had no idea.

And only one person was able to mention his name and his role, although some did think he looked like someone in a political position.

A homeless man said: “He looks like he’s someone standing for something in the election.”

Another said he looks like someone out of Coronation Street.

After explaining to a shop manager who Mr Stansfeld is, she said: “Can I speak to him? I had a theft in my shop last week and I called the police on Thursday, March 31 and on Monday, April 4 but they still haven’t come into my shop.”

Residents have been urged to vote in the elections. See onemk.co.uk for information on the candidates.

Kayaking duo smash target

MK DONS fans smashed their fundraising target for Willen Hospice when they paddled 67 miles in a kayak.

Graham Durcan and Richard Nordsted kayaked along the Grand Union Canal to the Fulham versus Dons game on March 31 in a bid to raise £5,000 but actually managed to raise £6,500.

To top it off the duo met MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman.

Shell document 'signed in city'

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

AN IDENTITY check for a shell company belonging to Rami Makhoul, Syrian dictator Bashar Assad's cousin, was allegedly signed off in MK's Foreign Office branch.

Following the Panama Papers data leak – which saw 11.5million confidential documents released relating to offshore companies and how the rich can exploit their tax regimes – it has been claimed Foreign Office officials were aware the businessman had a shell company in a British Overseas Territory. Officials at the Milton Keynes branch allegedly signed off a certificate of incumbency – which is used to confirm the identity of those signing a deal on behalf of a company – for Drex Technologies, with the documents allegedly naming Makhoul as a director and shareholder in March 2011.

The documents had been couriered to the UK to be signed by the Foreign Office branch for a £30 fee.

Although the Foreign Office declined to comment directly, it pointed to a statement by HMRC, which is investigating all the relevant information leaked in the Panama Papers.

"We will closely examine this data and will act on it swiftly and appropriately," HMRC said.

IS YOUR FINAL SALARY PENSION SCHEME BAD FOR YOUR WEALTH?

Tony Byrne, Managing Director, Wealth & Tax Management, Chartered and Certified Financial Planner and author of Wealth Magic.

It has long been a commonly held view that so called final salary pension schemes are sacrosanct. They are generally regarded as gold-plated and secure. However, since the new Pensions Freedom rules were introduced by the government on 6 April the whole ball game has changed significantly.

One of the many pensions changes introduced was the ability to not only leave your money purchase pension to your spouse but also to other members of your family such as children and grandchildren. This means that if you want your pension to survive you and benefit your family you can now do so because your pension need not die with you.

The problem with final salary pensions is that like annuities they die with you. Pretty much the best you can hope for is that your final salary pension scheme will provide a 50% widow's/widower's pension on your death. On the second of your deaths it dies with you. This is particularly pertinent if it is a large pension.

We have a male client who is in his fifties with a wife and children. He has a company final salary pension scheme worth c.£900K. In the last year he has been diagnosed with cancer and although he has recently been given the all clear his life expectancy will probably be much reduced. He is quite wealthy and has other large pensions so retirement income is going to be plentiful in any case.

We did a cashflow forecast comparing the income from his final salary scheme with that from a personal pension based on the pension transfer value offered by his previous employer's pension scheme. We assumed investment growth of just 5% p.a. in a new personal pension. Staggeringly for all time periods up to and way past retirement his and his widow's personal pension income was no worse than the income from his final salary pension scheme would have been. More importantly the value of his personal pension fund did not fall much at all in value! This means that his family in this situation would have been substantially better off to the tune of nearly £900K! He decided to transfer his pension preferring the "bird in the hand" approach.

Please do bear in mind this is just one isolated case. Every client's situation is different. Professional advice is essential.

If you are approaching retirement and/or considering early retirement and need advice why not get in touch?

We work with business executives aged 45+ who are ready to take their life and career by the scruff of the neck.

£3.6million gift to badminton centre

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
philip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

BADMINTON England has been offered a piece of land worth £3.6million in a bid to stop it moving out of the city.

Milton Keynes Council leader Pete Marland yesterday approved a plan to release the landholding of land at the back of The National Badminton Centre at Loughton Lodge.

This would allow Badminton England to use any money it gets from the site to create a new National Badminton Centre in Milton Keynes.

Previous plans for a centre at The National Bowl fell through last year over problems with funding and land ownership.

And Badminton England has reportedly considered leaving Milton Keynes and setting up a national centre elsewhere.

Cllr Marland told OneMK: "The council are doing all we can to make sure Badminton England is supported in all it does."

Improvement: Badminton England wants to improve on the current National Badminton Centre based in Loughton Lodge

"Because Badminton England has a long leasehold on the land, it's not like we can do anything else on it."

And Cllr Marland thinks Badminton England play an important role in shaping the status of Milton Keynes.

He explained: "Even during austerity we look at the reputation of the city and having Badminton England here and athletes training here for Commonwealth and European Championships is good for Milton Keynes.

"Part of the international sporting city is about that reputation and making sure MK bids for things like the Rugby World Cup."

There are several conditions to the plan such as Badminton England having to market the site and return any surplus funds back to the council.

Badminton England would also cover any legal costs and manage the project itself.

Appeal against store rejection

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
phillip.mceleney@onemk.co.uk

SUPERMARKET giant Sainsbury's has confirmed it will appeal the decision to reject its proposal for a new store.

On February 4 Milton Keynes Council turned down an application to build a shop and petrol station in Olney.

But now Sainsbury's will challenge the refusal and says it is 'disappointed' by the original decision.

The proposed store was rejected at a meeting of the council's development control committee with councillors citing the impact on Olney retail, inadequate parking and planning policies in rural areas as some of the reasons for refusal.

Sainsbury's has now issued a statement confirming the rumours that it would be appealing the decision.

A spokesman told OneMK: "We were naturally disappointed with the committee's decision to refuse the application, particularly considering the recommendation

Disappointed: Sainsbury's will appeal against the decision to reject plans for the new store and petrol station, drawn above from planning officers that the application be approved, and substantial support from the local community.

"We have submitted a slightly revised application and will also be appealing the decision."

The proposed site for the store is at the corner of Lavendon Road and Warrington Road.

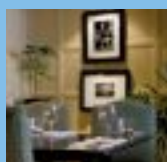

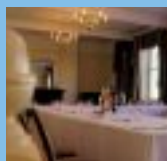

The original scheme would have seen 160 full and part-time jobs generated for the local community, with the plans also displayed at an exhibition in the Olney Centre that attracted about 240 visitors.

A public survey presented at the February meeting by Sean McGrath, a director from Indigo Planning working on behalf of Sainsbury's, showed 84 per cent of residents currently go to Milton Keynes, Bedford and Wellingborough for their weekly shop.

Dog lovers take lead in bid to get pounds

BY CHRIS KNIGHT

chris.knight@onemk.co.uk

TWELVE barking mad dog lovers will lock themselves in kennels for 24 hours to raise money for rescue charities.

The brave volunteers are spending a day in the life of a pound dog to raise money for Yappy Ever After, All Bullies Rescue, The Friends of Akitas Trust and Milton Keynes Stray Support Group.

No alcohol, books, phones, or tablets will be allowed and the dog lovers will be fed and walked twice.

John Seymour, 47, from Stony Stratford, came up with the idea to raise money and awareness of how the pound system works.

But having undertaken the challenge twice before, he believes many of his fellow volunteers are in for a shock.

He said: "I'm not too worried as I know what is coming, but some of the ladies taking part are a bit apprehensive!"

"Some people think we're mad – my wife Tracy especially! The boredom gets to you after a couple hours, as you will just be sat on a cold concrete floor.

"The only advice I can give to the others is not to worry about it. Some will get extremely bored very quickly, while others might adapt."

The volunteers hope to raise £2,500 to help pay for neutering and vaccinations for strays, to give them a better chance of being given space at a rescue home.

The group will be locked in and begin their challenge from noon at Villikens Kennels in Stoke Hammond on April 16.

John added: "We are just doing what we can to save as many lives as we can."

"There are lots of dog owners in Milton Keynes and I hope they will get behind us."

At the time of going to print, the volunteers had raised £1,468 on their GoFundMe page.

Kerry's ride for hospice 'family'

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@onemk.co.uk

A DAUGHTER will cycle day and night in memory of her 'inspirational' father who never stopped living during his fight against cancer.

Kerry Kennedy now volunteers for Willen Hospice after the charity helped her father Harry, who had a brain tumour, spend his last few months in comfort, both at the hospice and in his own home.

The 47-year-old is currently training to ride 240 miles in 24 hours on a circuit that will start at the hospice and go around the surrounding villages on Saturday, June 4.

She said: "Willen Hospice is just amazing. When my dad wanted to come home, its Care at Home service helped with all his needs as well as supporting me."

"They came two to three times a day and if I needed them I could call between 8am and 10pm, which really gave me confidence."

"I know they are trying to offer a 24-hour service as it has a massive community to

Giving something back: Kerry Kennedy with Willen Hospice staff, who are supporting her ride in aid of the charity this summer help. Their support for me and my dad was invaluable – it was like having a second family. Now by volunteering, seeing the staff that helped us and visiting his lakeside view room just helps me remember him in a nice way."

Miss Kennedy, who works at Satellite Information Services (SIS) Live in Kingston, continues to support the charity by volunteering at its shops and at the hospice.

She added: "I think the night part of the ride will be difficult, but thinking about my dad and the hospice will help get me through."

"Dad was a real inspiration and never gave up, he played golf until seven weeks before he passed and smiled every day. I learnt from him to be strong and never to give up."

Miss Kennedy is hoping to raise £3,500 for the hospice and has so far received £534. Find out how to donate at onemk.co.uk

Round and About MK –

That's pants!: Auctioneer Peter Mason with Queen Victoria's underwear

Pair of Victoria's pants sold at auction

IT MIGHT not be on everyone's wishlist, but one lucky bidder has taken home a giant pair of bloomers once worn by the former Queen of England.

Queen Victoria's 42-inch waist knickers went under the hammer at Charles Ross Auctioneers, based at The Old Town Hall in Woburn, and were snapped up for £1,700.

Speaking ahead of the sale, auctioneer Peter Mason, said: "We certainly haven't had anything like this here before – it is pretty exciting."

The auctioneers had to guess the age of the pants by looking at photographs of the former Queen to find out when the rather large pants would have fit her.

More than £1,000 might sound like a lot for a pair of the queen's knickers. However, a similar pair sold for £10,500 in Wiltshire in 2013.

Masters set to be one Hull of a tournament

WOBURN Golf Club professional Charley Hull is hoping her good form can propel her to glory in the British Masters in July.

She finished joint second in the ANA Inspiration at Mission Hills earlier this month – the best finish she has ever recorded in a Masters.

"I know I can play well under pressure now when I have to get it going," Charley, pictured below, told the Daily Express.

"I'm happy I holed that putt on the last and I'm proud of myself. It feels great.

"I can't wait for my next tournament.

"I'm going to take three weeks off, but I'm buzzed for the rest of the season.

"I put some good work in over Christmas, so I feel like so far this year I've had quite a few top 10s and been quite competitive."

Woburn will be hosting the final men's qualifying for The Open Championship on Tuesday, June 28.

It will then be hosting The Ricoh Women's British Open on the Marquess course from Thursday, July 28 to Sunday, July 31 and the Travis Perkins Masters from Friday, September 2 to Sunday, September 4.

Charley has been a member at Woburn Golf Club since she was 11 years old.

Homing in on town's big property price increase

ONEMK will bring you all the latest news from your community in our feature – Round and About MK.

Every month we will focus on a specific area to bring you up to date with what is going on.

This week we focus on Woburn, with reporter SCOTT KIRK finding out more about what is going on in the town.

Tell us what's happening in your area by emailing editor@onemk.co.uk

Window of insight: Ian Denton of Jackson-Stops & Staff sheds light on property prices in Woburn

NATIONAL statistics showing that house prices have risen by more than 47,000 per cent in the Queen's 90-year reign have been mirrored in Woburn, according to an estate agent.

UK average house prices have increased from £619 in 1926 to £291,505 in 2016 – a rise of 47,021 per cent. That equates to a 471 fold increase based on the data from the Office for National Statistics.

And Ian Denton, partner at the Woburn office of Jackson-Stops & Staff, says the emergence of Milton Keynes as a business district has fuelled the rise in house prices.

"That is a national figure but that would represent the sort of increase we have seen in Woburn," said Mr Denton.

"It's phenomenal when you look at it.

"What we have in our area is the influence of Milton Keynes as a business district.

"It is really having an effect on increasing demand and there is a restriction on supply.

"I personally worry about where prices are going.

"Could we see the same rate of growth over the next 90 years? I'm not sure but something will have to give."

The research has been carried out to mark The Queen's 90th birthday on April 21.

It also predicts that when HRH Prince Charles reaches 90 in 23 years' time (November, 2038), the UK average house price will be £1.3million – assuming house prices rise at the same rate as in the last 23 years.

On the same basis of rapid rising house prices, when HRH Prince William reaches 90 in 2072 the average UK house price will be £11.3million, according to the research.

OTHER PRICE RISES

As well as house prices rising 47,021 per cent in The Queen's lifetime:

- Gold has risen 20,425 per cent
- Bread has gone up 6,122 per cent
- Milk has increased 3,131 per cent
- Butter went up 2,428 per cent

Doll's house at Woburn Abbey would have made aunt Phyllis proud

VISITORS to Woburn Abbey can see an historic dolls' house, which has now been unveiled.

New for 2016, it was beautifully furnished and skillfully made by members of the Russell family at the beginning of the 20th century. It is a replica in miniature of Oakley House, which is situated just outside Bedford and was owned by the Fourth Duke of Bedford.

Created in the 1920s, it is one of the largest dolls' houses of this era in the UK. It is very fitting to have this particular dolls' house on display at Woburn Abbey as its history ties back to the family.

The dolls' house was created by Leo and Phyllis Russell, the two youngest children of the Baron of Amptill, who were aged 13 and 10 and lived in Oakley House at the time.

The current owner of the dolls' house, Georgiana Fiddian-Green, said: "Aunt Phyllis would have been over the moon."

THE CLASSIC story The Railway Children is set to entertain the whole family at Stantonbury Theatre, with 10 lucky youngsters even getting the chance to perform on stage.

Image Musical Theatre returns with this wonderful adaption of Edith Nesbit's much-loved children's tale. The story was originally serialised

The lives of children Roberta, Peter and Phyllis are shattered. But while there, they learn about the railway from their new friend Perks and soon fall in love with it and many adventures follow.

This adaptation gives the whole audience the chance to join in and up to 10 children the opportunity to perform on stage with the actors.

The unique adaptation will be performed on Saturday, April 23 at 2.30pm.

It is for those aged five plus and will last for 90 minutes, with a 20-minute interval.

BLOCKBUSTER Batman v Superman is finally on our screens, but the eagerly-anticipated movie fails to match the hype.

DC Comics' attempt to launch a franchise to rival the Marvel Cinematic Universe is a complicated, haphazard mess, which attempts to introduce far too much in an already bloated running time of 153 minutes.

Gotham City's vigilante (Ben Affleck) and Metropolis' God (Henry Cavill) are slowly but surely drawn into battle by the nefarious Lex Luthor, played brilliantly by Jesse Eisenberg.

Affleck's brooding and violent performance as Batman is a positive and Gal Gadot also delivers an intriguing turn in the screen debut for Wonder Woman.

But despite these performances, many of the characters motivations remain murky throughout and too many plot points remain unexplained or downright baffling.

Once the action gets underway, director Zack Snyder delivers stylish and devastating set-pieces, which will undoubtedly entertain audiences.

But the substance that is required to justify the carnage is ultimately missing. Snyder's movie struggles under the weight of the ambitious premise and it is these grandiose ideas that suffocate the titular contest.

Tickets can be bought at mkco.org and they range from £5 to £22.

THE Parks Trust's biodiversity officer MARTIN KINCAID tells us about the grass snakes that live in our green spaces. Read the full column at onemk.co.uk

THE grass snake is the largest and most common species of snake in England.

A full grown one can be more than one metre in length, however, they are non-venomous and totally harmless to humans, preying on nothing more than amphibians and fish.

Handling grass snakes is a bad idea as their defence against predators includes emitting a foul smelling musk – the stench is overwhelming.

At this time of year snakes are emerging from their winter hibernation and it is not unusual for large numbers to congregate and bask in the sun together – known as 'lying up'.

We often receive reports of adders from our parks but none of these scarce snakes are found in Milton Keynes.

The cream or yellow 'collar' behind the head is the most distinctive feature of the grass snake, while adders have a clear zig-zag mark down their backs and are generally smaller in size and thicker bodied.

poetryclass

YOU can be inspired by the exhibition '...of sky, land and sea' created by Westbury artists Joe Little and Robin Souter.

The poetry workshop – which takes place on Sunday, April 24 between 10.30am and 4.30pm at Westbury Arts Centre – will let visitors see the exhibition, meet Joe and Robin and talk to them about their recent work.

There will also be the opportunity to visit the artists' studios and draft poems while taking their landscape paintings as a point of departure.

The workshop will be facilitated by writer in residence Karen Littleton.

Tea and coffee will be provided but take a packed lunch with you.

Tickets cost £45, email admin@westburyartscentre.co.uk to book.

REPORTER Jessica Duncan took her pizza-loving boyfriend to La Collina, a family run Italian restaurant in The George Inn, Little Brickhill. Here's what she thought...

IF LIKE me you adore Italian food, you have to check this place out.

The decor needs a bit of an update, but we were warmly welcomed with friendly staff and even a cat manning the bar.

There is a huge selection of Italian classics on the menu.

We had a lovely Frittura di Pesce (hot seafood platter), which was huge, but I did want a bit more flavour on the fish instead of having to use the dips.

All the starters were a bit pricey, but from what I could see from others the portions were big.

But what really sets this restaurant apart from all the others in Milton Keynes? The Panzini.

I still can't find the words to describe it or what I can really compare it too, but I can say it's fantastic!

The dish dates back to the 16th century to the court of Duke Carlo la Zeolla, Colle Sannita, Italy. They would stuff dough with any left overs pieces of pork belly, sausage, beef or olives then bake it and eat it as a snack while working in the fields.

We shared one with beef, pork belly, mozzarella and caramelised onions, as well as one with beef, chilli and cheddar. They were amazing and definitely worth a try.

To top it off the homemade desserts were gorgeous too, especially the banana calzone.

La Collina is definitely worth a visit for its homemade Italian food, friendly staff and big portions.

Milton Keynes Council

Proposal to remove the designated special education provision at Cedars Primary School

Notice is given in accordance with section 19(1) of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 and the School Organisation Regulations 2013, that Milton Keynes Council, Saxon Court, 502 Avebury Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes, MK9 3HS intends to make a prescribed alteration to Cedars Primary School (community school), Bury Street, Newport Pagnell, Milton Keynes, MK16 0DT from 1 September 2016.

The council proposes to remove the designated special educational needs (SEN) status at Cedars Primary School which means that the school will no longer reserve places in its nursery for children, aged 3-5, with SEN or additional needs. This does not affect children already at the nursery and the school will continue to operate a nursery class.

The purpose of a specialist provision in a nursery is to intensively support children with complex SEN needs to enable them to integrate into a mainstream school. However, places are expensive and limited, with less than 10% of children who would qualify for this provision being able to access it. The majority of pre-school children with complex SEN needs are therefore already catered for within mainstream early years provision. In addition to this it has been found in Milton Keynes that children who attend a nursery with specialist provision are more likely to transfer into specialist provision rather than into mainstream provision.

There is no statutory duty to provide specialist provision within mainstream nursery classes, and due to the pressures on all schools' budgets (the Dedicated Schools Grant), the council has decided to withdraw place funding for this specialist provision, and to stop automatic funding of transport costs to the provision. The council will instead ensure that appropriate support is available to all early years providers who have children with special educational needs.

This Notice is an extract of the complete proposal which is available online at: www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/consultations, or can be obtained from: Mrs Sue Morrissey, Strategic Lead, Education Sufficiency and Access, Milton Keynes Council, Saxon Court, 502 Avebury Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes, MK9 3HS Tel: 01908 258035. Email: sufficiencyandaccess@milton-keynes.gov.uk Within four weeks from the date of publication of this proposal, any person may support, object or make comments by submitting an online form at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/consultations, or by emailing sufficiencyandaccess@milton-keynes.gov.uk, or in writing to the above address. The closing date for comments is 11 May 2016.

Signed: Marie Denny, Head of Service, Education Sufficiency and Access
Date: 13 April 2016

Milton Keynes Council

The following applications may be inspected at the Planning and Transport Department, Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Milton Keynes. Representations, if any, to be submitted in writing to the above address within 21 days of the publication of this notice.

New Volkswagen Tiguan Open To Order

The first versions of the dynamic new Tiguan SUV today open for order at Volkswagen UK Retailers nationwide. Designed and engineered to redefine the compact SUV segment new Tiguan introduces class-leading levels of interior space, practicality and safety while also debuting cutting-edge technology and connectivity.

New from the ground up, today's Tiguan brings previously unseen levels of quality and refinement to its sector with a premium look and feel that belie its price. The first new Volkswagen SUV to sit on the innovative and flexible MQB platform – which also underpins the class-leading Volkswagen Golf – the new car signals the start of a comprehensive SUV offensive which will see the brand represented in all core SUV segments over time.

By virtue of its cutting edge MQB underpinnings the new Tiguan debuts exceptional levels of safety and connectivity. Standard from entry will be a raft of valuable safety features such as Front Assist; City Emergency Braking and Pedestrian Monitoring, while hi-tech features available for the first time in a Tiguan include Active Info Display; Head-Up Display; Area View and Trailer Assist.

Perfectly proportioned, and shaped to develop the character of the original best-selling Tiguan, the new car balances clean lines with a powerful, dynamic stance.

With a 33 mm reduction in height versus the outgoing car to 1,632 mm, and a 30 mm growth in width to 1,839 mm, new Tiguan exhibits an even more sleek, confident shape. At 4,486 mm in length it is also 60 mm longer than its predecessor. The wheelbase has been significantly extended to 2,681 mm – a gain of 77 mm. At the front, in particular, the unit formed by the radiator grille and optional LED projection headlights reinforces the car's powerful impression and upright stance.

The SUV design language is taken up consistently inside new Tiguan, too. The cockpit, for example, is now aligned towards the driver for better comfort and without constricting the airy impression of the interior. At the same time, the wider centre console typical of SUVs is paired with the new 4MOTION Active Control rotary switch to create a defining interior element with a premium feel. Ambient lighting generates a sophisticated overall impression, completed by the optional panoramic roof – standard from SEL trim upwards – and details such as the elegant door handles and smart trim strips.

This generously-proportioned interior offers more head room and knee room than previously – up by 29 mm in the case of knee room – and when the rear bench is folded the cargo space, at 1,655 litres, is 145 litres larger than before. Meanwhile a lower load sill improves ease of use and underscores the Tiguan's everyday utility, while an optimised body structure and improved aerodynamics add to occupant comfort via reduced cabin noise.

The car also offers a sliding rear bench seat that has been optimised to permit up to 180 mm of adjustment – 20 mm more than in the previous model. When the rear bench is slid forwards, the boot provides 615 litres of space – a gain of 145 litres. Highlighting the new Volkswagen's practicality is a towing capacity of up to 2,500 kg (depending on model and drivetrain) which is unique in this class of compact SUVs.

The extended engine range of the new Tiguan gives customers the greatest possible range of choices for power, style and comfort. A broad line-up has been created to appeal to the widest possible customer base.

In the UK the car will over time be offered with up to three new petrol engines, with power outputs from 125 PS to 180 PS, and four new diesel engines ranging from 115 PS to 240 PS. All EU6-compliant, they are more powerful and more fuel-efficient than the comparable EU5 engines of the previous model. The diesel engines feature SCR catalytic converter technology, using the now familiar AdBlue additive.

As order books open, the high-volume diesel will be available as a 2.0 TDI 150 PS with 4MOTION all-wheel drive and a seven-speed dual clutch gearbox (DSG) or six-speed manual transmission; or with front-wheel drive and a manual gearbox. In addition the 2.0 TSI with 180 PS, 4MOTION and DSG is also on offer from today. These engines are expected to account for around three quarters of UK Tiguan sales. Extended engine, drive and gearbox options will be available in two further order waves which open in the UK on the 5th May and 2nd June.

The first wave of engines in the UK offer 0-62 mph times of between 7.7 seconds (2.0 TSI 180 PS) to 9.3 seconds (2.0 TDI 150 PS), with top speeds, where legal, ranging from 129 mph to 124 mph. For the first wave of engines, CO2 emissions are calculated at between 125 g/km (2.0 TDI 150 PS front-wheel drive with six-speed manual gearbox), to 170 g/km (2.0 TSI 180 PS 4MOTION with seven-speed DSG).

Fuel economy for the launch engines, on the official EU combined cycle, ranges from 58.9 mpg (2.0 TDI 150 PS front wheel drive six-speed manual) to 38.2mpg (2.0 TSI 180 PS 4MOTION with seven-speed DSG).

New Tiguan sets standards when it comes to safety, with a raft of active and passive safety measures delivered by virtue of the use of the MQB platform. Front Assist with City Emergency Braking and Pedestrian Monitoring; active bonnet; automatic post-collision braking and Lane Assist are fitted as standard (in Europe). The first active bonnet on a Volkswagen reduces the risk of injury to pedestrians and cyclists by lifting upward in the event of an impact – rising 50 mm within 22 milliseconds of an impact.

The UK range will be badged using Volkswagen's familiar S, SE, SE Navigation, SEL and R-Line designations, with diesel engines expected to account for around 95% of sales. The new Volkswagen Tiguan range is expected to be priced from around £22,500 (RRP OTR) when all versions are available, and deliveries of the first customer cars are expected this summer.

Land Rover Range Rover Evoque

CLASS OF THE FIELD

The Range Rover Evoque has been given a thorough once-over. It still looks much as before with only a few nips and tucks, but almost all the money has been spent under that very pretty skin. Efficiency improves with a new family of diesel engines and there's some exciting equipment choices also on offer. It's still the one the rest are aiming at.

It's a brave new world at Land Rover right now. The Freelander's gone and the Discovery Sport has appeared, but the big news might well be the development of the Ingenium engines that look to put the company on a similar efficiency footing as the best of the Germans and Japanese. The Evoque gets the aluminium Ingenium diesel engine, built at the company's shiny new £500m Engine Manufacturing Centre in the West Midlands. This TD4 unit is 20-30kg lighter than its predecessor and delivers low levels of vibration and noise intrusion. It's offered to Evoque customers in two states of tune: 150PS in the economy-oriented eD4 front-wheel drive model, and 180PS if you prefer a bit more poke and can't do without all-wheel drive.

Should you want to go faster still, you can buy the Evoque with the punchy 240PS Si4 petrol engine. This propels a three-door car through 62mph in just 7.6 seconds and on to a top speed of 135mph. The nine-speed ZF transmission is available and it's an option you really need to tick. It shifts between gears so quickly that ZF reckons it's "below the threshold of perception". An adaptive shift programme quickly matches the driving style and includes a memory function. A Torque Vectoring by Braking feature further enhances agility and safety by redirecting torque to counteract understeer. Off-road ability is enhanced with the fitment of All-Terrain Progress Control. This function maintains a pre-determined speed - selected using the cruise control function - in forward or reverse gears between 1.1mph and 19mph, allowing the driver to concentrate on negotiating tricky terrain.

The changes continue inside with updated seats and higher-quality soft-touch materials used for the door casings. The instrument binnacle has also been redesigned. Buyers still choose between three and five-door models, the key difference between which is the amount of room in the back of the car. Go for the five-door and the roofline is subtly re-profiled such that there's 30mm of additional headroom. The rear row of seats, with seat belts and head restraints for three passengers, have 60/40 folding squabs and are equipped with ISOFIX child seat mounts. When required, luggage capacity can be expanded to a healthy 1,445-litres. The three-door has a boot that is a little smaller, measuring 550-litres with the seats in place and 1,350 with them folded.

Land Rover has spent its money wisely with this Evoque. Not a lot really needed doing to the styling and the interior finish and there's only been a bit of tidying up there; mere nips, tucks and tweaks. The engine range has come in for the lion's share of the budget and it's an investment that ought to keep the Evoque at the top of the class for some time to come. Rather depressingly for the Evoque's competitors, it's only the start of the roll-out of the Ingenium engine family. It's just going to get better and better.

That's wonderful news for Evoque customers. The car's just become significantly more economical and capable, both on road and off. Just about the only thing that can really sink this model is for it to go horribly out of fashion. That doesn't look like happening any time soon, but just in case, Land Rover has concentrated on substance over style with this revision. In doing so, the brand has future-proofed its biggest money-spinner.

Dacia Unveils Value-Enhancing Special Editions

Dacia has introduced the new Ambiance Prime special edition across its Sandero, Duster and Logan MCV model ranges, starting from £7,295, offering cost-conscious drivers something extra in every sense. Building on the popular Ambiance specification, the new special edition includes additional exterior equipment that when bought collectively adds up to £1,190 – all for a price premium of only £500 over the Ambiance trim and reinforcing Dacia's 'shockingly affordable' approach to motoring. The arrival of the Ambiance Prime special edition comes at a time when more drivers than ever are opting for the no-nonsense brand, Dacia having recently celebrated its third consecutive year of growth in the UK and selling over 3.5 million cars since relaunching across Europe.

GOLF GTI CLUBSPORT EDITION 40 IS HERE

'Iconic' is, perhaps, a word bandied around all too freely but, when applied to the mould-breaking Golf GTI, it can be used with genuine justification. The car that popularised the 'hot hatch' phenomenon is 40 years old in 2016 and, to mark the occasion, Volkswagen has created the most potent iteration of the GTI to date. Available to order in Volkswagen UK Retailers now, the specially commissioned Golf GTI Clubsport Edition 40 celebrates four decades of a true automotive icon. Powering this addition to the GTI range is a 2.0-litre turbocharged direct-injection engine that delivers 265 PS, making it the most powerful Golf GTI yet.

THE NEW AUDI A3 – STILL AHEAD OF THE CURVE

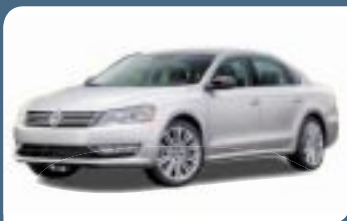

The Audi A3 is accelerating to catch up with the VorsprungdurchTechnik brand's latest technological developments – a new, even more sharply styled A3 featuring new engines and accommodating the latest driver assistance and infotainment advances, including the standard-fit Audi smartphone interface and the optional fully digital Audi virtual cockpit, becomes available to order in May. The first three-door, five-door Sportback, Saloon and Cabriolet versions, headed by their respective S3 flagships, will arrive with UK customers from late summer. The plug-in hybrid A3 Sportback e-tron with its 176mpg capability and 37g/km CO2 output will also make its debut in updated form later this year.

Bentley unveils today the revised Continental GT Speed, raising the bar even further in terms of exclusivity and performance. The fastest production Bentley ever, with a top speed of 206 mph (331 km/h), now delivers even more power and torque, and a striking new Black Edition model joins the Speed family. Engineers at Bentley in Crewe have developed even more muscle from the Continental's iconic 6.0-litre twin-turbocharged W12 engine. As a result, the 0-60 mph sprint time has dropped to just 3.9

seconds (0-100 km/h in 4.1 secs). Bentley is also introducing the Continental GT Speed Black Edition which celebrates the rich and striking depth of the GT's sporting character. Available as both coupe and convertible bodystyles, the customers' choice of body colour is complimented by a high gloss black finish to the exterior brightware, including the window openings and lamp bezels. All-black 21" five-spoke directional wheels cover distinctive brake calipers, which can be specified in red or black finishes.

Double top 10 finish for Samuel Oram-Jones

SAMUEL Oram-Jones impressively took two top 10 finishes on his maiden outing in the 2016 BRSCC Quaife Fiesta Championship at Snetterton, which is the championship for production Ford Fiestas.

The 18-year-old, competing with Dan Woodrow's 23

Racing, was taking part in his first competitive race for more than a year after spending last year concentrating on his studies.

The Middleton youngster had a tough start to the weekend with an engine problem but despite less mileage and time to dial the car in, he still managed to qualify 13th in the highly competitive 28-car field, before battling his way through to 10th position in the first race on Sunday and eighth in the second, after a brilliant start in his front-wheel drive Class C 2.0 litre Fiesta ST.

Ability: The achievement's of Olney RFC U18 player Fraser Strachan is making his club proud

Scotland call up for Olney player

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

OLNEY RFC U18 player Fraser Strachan has been called up for the national Scottish rugby side for his age group.

Strachan, a back, scored a try in their match against Wales in Swansea in the U18 International Series but it was to end in disappointment as they lost narrowly 31-30.

He also started in Scotland U18s 43-0 defeat to Ireland at Caerphilly Centre of Sporting Excellence, Ystrad Mynach, and was in the squad for the game against their English counterparts.

Speaking to scottishrugby.org head coach Ally Donaldson said: "A lot of players have put their hands up to move on further in the game in Scotland and they will all be a lot better for this experience."

"It's the biggest learning experience these guys will have ever had."

"To play three games at that level, with such a short turnaround is hard going."

"They have been an outstanding group to work with and have improved since we started working with them a few months ago and they can all be proud of their efforts."

Fraser started his playing career at the age of five for Luton RFC.

Most of his youth rugby was played at Luton before he moved to Olney RFC at the age of 14.

While he was there he played inside centre for the unbeaten U14 and U15 squads and was selected for the England Midlands U16 team.

In January this year Fraser played for Olney in the East Midlands Final when the team beat Amphil.

Due to his international cap, under RFU rules, Fraser can't play in any of the National Cup competition, in which Olney's youth side has progressed to the semi-final stage.

Fraser has played within the Northampton Saints academy since he was 13 and was part of the Bedford school team that went undefeated this season and lifted the National Schools Cup.

Olney RFC coach Mark Lay said: "Fraser has been a real asset to the Olney squad."

"He is a very physical player with the ability to break through a defensive back line and put supporting players into gaps."

"He enjoys the contact and is impressive in defence with a good track record in stealing the ball from the opposition."

"We're very proud of his achievements."

Meanwhile, Milton Keynes failed to secure promotion from the Berks, Bucks and Oxon Premier after they lost 27-22 to third placed Tadley. They must beat Chipping Norton to get up to Southern Counties North.

Olney beat Leicester Forest 20-18 in their final Midlands Two East (South) match of the season.

ICE HOCKEY

Awards herald great year as McPherson celebrates

BY SCOTT KIRK

scott.kirk@onemk.co.uk

LEWIS Hook and James Griffin dominated the trophies at MK Lightning's awards evening on Friday night as Grant McPherson celebrated 10 years at Lightning the following night.

Griffin, already resigned for next term, picked up the Coach's Award, the Best Defensive Player and the Players' Player prizes while Hook claimed the Most Valuable Player and Supporters' Club awards.

In his review of the season head coach Pete Russell said he was delighted the season ended on a high with MK reaching the play-off final against Guildford who won 6-2.

"Perhaps it was one game too far though," he added.

General manager Nick Poole also praised the fans' efforts for raising £80,000 for the team during the season.

"I don't know of any other supporters club around the country that has raised anywhere near that amount," he said.

The night after that saw alternate captain Grant McPherson rewarded for ten years at Lightning with his own testimonial at the MK Arena.

Some of the biggest names from the 14 year history of the club came back to play for the popular Scot's All Stars team. They included Lightning's first captain, Dwayne Newman, as well as Scandinavians Andre Smulter, Toni Alasaarela, Jo Wiklander and one of the club's initial import forwards Mikko Skinnari.

Buoyed by the news announced the previous day that Lightning had secured the services for next season of Anglo-Canadian, Craig Scott – son of former MK Kings' '90s legend Paddy Scott – in addition to retaining Jordan Cownie, fans and players were in great mood.

Celebration: Players from MK Lightning were given awards to mark the end of the ice hockey season

Scott was Peterborough Phantoms' top points scorer this past season while Cownie claimed the same accolade for MK. British former Lightning stars helping to complete the line-up for the game against the current team included Chris McEwen, goalies Barry Hollyhead and Alex Mettam, Ben Russell, Jacob Heron and Kurt Irvine.

Some have long since hung up their skates and settled down to family life but they were happy to don the uniform once again for Grant – known as G-Man – who first signed for the club as an 18-year-old in 2006.

McPherson said: "When I signed it didn't cross my mind that this would happen. Third line grinders don't usually last that long in one team, but I can say it has been an awesome ten years."

Captain Adam Carr described him as a 'warrior.' The result of the game hardly mattered – but for the record it ended predictably 9-9 – the same number as Grant's shirt.

Following the game played over two – not three periods – there was plenty of time for former heroes to reacquaint themselves with old team mates and fans in the bar.

FORMULA ONE

Qualification reverts to 2015 style for China

QUALIFICATION will refer back to the 2015 format, it was announced on Monday.

There has been a lot of criticism of the way drivers and teams have had to qualify for Grand Prix last season because of a lack of action on the track towards the end of sessions, with Red Bull team principal Christian Horner a definite advocate of changing the system.

The FIA granted that wish on Monday ahead of this weekend's Chinese Grand Prix, which Red Bull driver Daniil Kvyat is looking forward to.

"I think the Shanghai Circuit is actually a really interesting and technical track," said the Russian driver.

"Turn One is a unique corner and the fast changes of direction in the middle of the lap are

Challenging: Daniel Ricciardo is looking forward to tackling Shanghai challenging. My first race there was in 2014 and we had a wet qualifying which made it challenging as we had different conditions for the race."

The circuit at Shanghai has one of the longest straights on the entire Formula One calendar followed by one of the tightest corners, and that is a challenge which Kvyat's teammate Daniel Ricciardo is also relishing.

"The straight at the Shanghai International Circuit is super long which makes it pretty different compared to other tracks. Coming off that straight, you then have to brake for one of the tightest corners on the calendar – you go from one of the highest speeds to the lowest.

"Turns One, Two and Three are like one big corner, really long and uphill, and this makes it really tough on the front left tyre, it's one of the toughest circuits for that which can be interesting."

Robinson speaks out over rumours on future at Dons

Rumours: Dons boss Karl Robinson has addressed his future at the Dons MK DONS manager Karl Robinson has spoken out on the rumours surrounding his future at the club.

Reports after the Rotherham defeat indicated the manager was set for crisis talks with chairman Pete Winkelman at the end of the season.

In response to the rumours, Robinson said: "I think my post-match comments were taken a little out of context."

"At the end of every season, me and the chairman sit down and have a conversation about what direction we want to go in."

"He'll say this is what we're going to do, this is what we're going to spend and then asks for my input."

"First and foremost, I have to look at myself after every season and really question whether this is something I want to do next year. If it's not, I'm the wrong person for MK Dons."

"The other problem is whether I'm the right one for the chairman because if I'm not, it will be constant banging heads against walls."

"I really want to see this football club grow year-in, year-out."

'We need to restore pride'

MK DONS boss Karl Robinson still believes his side can beat the drop and is urging his players to 'restore pride' in their remaining five matches.

The Dons were thrashed 4-0 at home by relegation rivals Rotherham and are now sat on the brink of Championship relegation - nine points adrift of safety.

Robinson admits the odds are stacked against his side in their bid for survival, but he insists there is still a chance the club could leapfrog one of the teams above them. He said: "We're still not relegated - that's the most important thing people need to realise."

"I understand the predicament we're in, it looks extremely difficult we can pull anything out of the bag. "We've fallen short in a number of areas this season - we have to be honest."

"The league table doesn't tell any lies and right now we're the third worst team in the Championship."

"There's 15 points left and three teams are nine points ahead of us."

"I wouldn't be betting your house on it, but 15 points is a lot still to play for." Robinson is also adamant the steep learning curve of the Championship will benefit the club in the long-term - regardless of whether the Dons suffer relegation or not.

He added: "I think this club will be in a much better place for the last 12 months."

"I know the wrongdoings of the year and it's the football club's job to get it right, knock one or two things down and rebuild."

"We all want to be in the Championship, it is as simple as that. Everything this year has put us in good stead to become a better football club."

The Dons will be looking to pull themselves closer to safety when they travel to Preston on Saturday.
